After the annexation of Bassarabia at the USSR (Union of Soviet Socialist Republics), the Bassarabian society confronted with major problems of religious, economical, political and social order, which results continue to be felt and till the present days. One among the social classes which suffered the most persecutions was the clergy. They were baited (persecuted) not only in the period after the annexation but and during the soviet administration.

From this reason, in the present material we try to publish the nominal lists of the priests and of the church servers from Bassarabia from the end of 40 years, of the last century, registered by the Soviet authorities.
